Vessel Breaks Up During Storm

2 Crewmen Lost, 34 Saved As Greek Tanker Splits

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP)—Thirty-four survivors of the broken Greek tanker Amphilos arrived in Halifax early today aboard a Canadian warship after a dramatic rescue from the stormy North Atlantic.

Two members of the 36-man Greek crew perished after the 15,800-ton tanker split in two under the battering of gale winds and 20-foot waves off the Nova Scotia coast Saturday. Five of the survivors were taken to a hospital on stretchers.

Capt. Stamantis Polemis, the Amphilos' skipper, said he and his men clung for hours to a rail of the stern section until they were picked up Sunday afternoon by the Canadian destroyer escort Athabaskan. A 300-foot bow section of the 630-foot ship floated away and sank.

The survivors were wrapped in navy blankets as they left the Canadian warship. Most appeared cheerful but tired. They shook hands with the Canadian sailors and in broken English expressed their gratitude.

Asked to confirm the number of men aboard his ship, Polemis said briskly, "We had 36. Now we have 34."

The rescue followed a chance observation by a Canadian air force plane during a training mission. The pilot, Lt. Laurie Friesen, spotted an oil slick about 220 miles southeast of Halifax—presumably from the sunken bow.

"A couple of minutes later we saw two ships," Friesen said. "The nearest was a navy ship—Athabaskan—and about eight miles away was another ship. The second vessel looked different from a normal ship."

As he swooped down, he made out the stern of a ship sticking out of the water.

"There were men clinging to the rails," Friesen said. "They began waving frantically."

Friesen radioed the Athabaskan. The warship's presence in the area was pure chance. The

Astronaut Delays Corps Retirement

Young Plans No Attack On Glenn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, said today he plans an affirmative campaign but does not expect to attack Lt. Col. John I. Glenn of Cleveland on Saturday, May 2. But Young has passed up a public appearance this week.

Young, 74, seeking a second six-year term in the Senate, plans to debate with the former astronaut before the City Club of Cleveland on Saturday, May 2. But Young has passed up a public appearance this week.

Young, along with Glenn, seeking the Democratic nomination, and the two chief contenders of the Republican senatorial nomination, Rep. Robert Taft Jr. and Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, was invited to speak Friday at a dinner in Columbus.

But Young declined the invitation to appear at the dinner sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, a journalistic society, where each of the contestants was to be given 10 minutes to present his views and answer questions.

Taft's office said he plans to attend the Columbus dinner and that Brown has accepted the invitation.

Glenn, the first American to orbit the earth, was hurt in a fall in his bathroom and has delayed his retirement from the Marine Corps until April 1. As a result, he will not start his campaign until a month from now.

Both Young and Taft intended to spend most of their time prior to May 5 in Washington tending to their congressional duties, with fast trips back to Ohio on weekends to put in their campaign licks.

Although he does not intend to attack Glenn personally, Young said, he does plan to ask what committees Glenn might seek if he is elected to the Senate.

Young said he is on both the Senate Aeronautical and Space Sciences and the Armed Services committees, which Glenn might prefer due to his background. Glenn, if elected, "would have to start at the bottom of such committees," Young said.

Glenn had planned to start his Senate drive today, but the mild concussion he suffered last week scrambled his plans.

U. S. Marine Corps officials advised Glenn that if he were still in the hospital on his scheduled retirement date—Feb. 29—he would risk loss of disability pay should he not put off the

HELD IN FATAL SHOOTING
DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The sheriff's department was holding Mrs. Daisy Lee Ficklen, 47, of Dayton today for investigation in the fatal shooting of her roomer, Willie Smith, 23.

Officials quoted Mrs. Ficklen as saying Smith threw an ash-tray at her, then drew a .32 caliber automatic, when they returned from a party early Sunday. She said she grabbed at Smith and the gun went off.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODY ISHMAEL

ONE OF YOU WILL BETRAY ME

Thirteen guests gathered at the table for that portentous Last Supper. Midway through the meal, Jesus said to the Twelve: "Amen I say to you, one of you will betray me."

"And being very much saddened they began each to say, 'Is it I, Lord?' But He answered and said, 'He who dips his hand with me in the dish, he will betray Me. The Son of Man indeed goes His way, as it is written of Him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It were better for that man if he had not been born.'

"And Judas who betrayed Him answered and said, 'Is it I, Rabbi?' He said to him, 'Thou hast said it.'" (Matthew XXVI:21-25)

Greater Participation by Legion Youth Groups Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Executive Committee of the Ohio American Legion wants greater participation by junior groups and non-member adults in Legion parades and contests.

The committee, meeting here Sunday, approved a program of contests including cash awards for junior bands competing in the annual Legion convention parade in Columbus, July 26, and sponsored by home-town posts.

Approved was a program permitting a 20 per cent non-Legion membership (over age 21) in the contest for senior drill teams and a new parade contest for baton-twirling units.

The committee voted a budget of $6,000 for the entire program. In other actions, the committee:

- Approved a Legion family day at Cedar Point on Sunday, June 21.
- Agreed to back a program to procure new uniforms for the 60-piece band at the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home at Xenia. The present uniforms were furnished by the Legion 24 years ago.

Committees Named, Reports Heard by Catholic Bureau

Columbiana County's Catholic Service Bureau added four children to its case load during February, but dismissed 10, leaving 58 beginning March 1, according to a report of Miss Mary Catherine Donahue, executive secretary.

The Rev. Fr. Cyril A. Adamko, newly appointed director of Catholic Charities, Diocese of Youngstown, was introduced to the board of directors at the recent meeting in St. George's parish hall at Lisbon.

The following committees were appointed:

- Adoptive homes—Mrs. Alice Ann Costello, chairman, Thomas Reese and Mrs. Mary Gill.
- Boarding homes—Mrs. Anna Bruber, chairman, Reynaldo Oriole and Robert Madden.

These committees are to make a study of policies in regard to foster homes of the agency.

Additional community support in the East Liverpool area was one of the main topics of discussion. No response has been received from previous application to the East Liverpool Area Community Fund.

It was decided to reapply for aid as last year over $5,000 was spent by the bureau for child care and family welfare for residents of East Liverpool.

The need for and possibilities of securing an additional worker in the office to increase the services offered by the bureau were discussed, but action was delayed pending further study. The board's next meeting will be March 26.

Greenford Club Plans Activities

Seventy members and guests were present when the Greenford Ruritan Club met recently at the school. The supper was served by the Senior class.

Raymond Rhodes, a charter member, was reinstated. Two new members, Wayne Lloyd and Ralph Cook, were accepted. The club will hold the spring convention at the Canfield Presbyterian Church April 25.

It was voted to donate $25 each to two needy families in Green Township. It was also voted and approved to give the Boy and Cub Scouts $600, to be used as needed.

The church committee will sponsor the Greenford Ruritanes and also sponsor the Christmas lighting contest next December in two categories, total lighting and doorway. The club will send a girl and boy to attend Buckeye State and will give scholastic awards to the high school students who receive better-than-average grades in specific subjects.

The directors will hold a meeting at 7:30 p. m. Monday, March 9, at the home of Ralph Hendricks. The annual fish fry will be held March 21 at the school.

QUESTIONED IN STABBING

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Aaron McClain, 38, of Dayton was being questioned by police today in the fatal stabbing of his wife, Marie, 33.

Police said McClain called them Saturday night saying he needed an ambulance for his wife. Officers found her dead of a stab wound and McClain wounded in the side. Authorities said the couple had quarreled.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug stores.

You Can Bet on That

Like many natives in and around recreation meccas for tourists, we cannot be counted on personally to use the facilities lined up for Ohio's first all-around sports resort on Mohican Mountain in Ashland County.

But the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, which is hammering on the door of tourist opportunity, can count on us to furnish what travel folders commonly refer to as "local color."

Future tourists going to and from the Mohican State Forest fun-center and the Atwood Lake development will be keeping their eyes peeled for memorable sights and scenes. We, in turn, will have our eyes peeled for out-of-state license plates.

Whenever we see one, we will go into one of our innumerable native dances. We have an assortment — some imploring the rain-maker in the sky to shower down on us. Some beseeching remote gods in Columbus and Washington to be merciful, some to thump up a militant spirit against rascals in city hall. The repertoire is endless.

We will go through the colorful and profane smoke ceremony in which meat is on portable altars in back yards. The visitors will want to take our pictures, of course, and for half a bob apiece we'll pose in coolout hats and aprons. We may offer them dipperfuls of our exotic native beverages, too.

There will be all kinds of sights for visitors from afar to gawk at — the big snow ceremony in winter when Ohioans spin their wheels — the dramatic traffic-jam ceremony with horns blowing and steam coming out of the ears — the chicken-out ceremony to test young braves on big highway and get rid of old chiefs and old squaws. Ugh.

Have no fear, Department of Natural Resources. If you help to install enough magnets to draw tourists, we natives will give them memories to take back home to Pennsylvania, Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky, West Virginia and many more distant points.

We Ohioans may not be as quaint as hard-scrabble Vermonters or down-easters in Maine, but we'll be authentic. You can bet on that.

We Don't Scare Them Much

The most ominous threat William C. Foster could make in breaking off deadlocked disarmament discussions in Geneva was to say the United States will continue to build its defenses, in the absence of agreement to control the arms race.

This doesn't sound very ominous to the Soviet Union, or any other nation on earth. They know something the United States never admits to itself.

This country will not attack them. They know it will not even counterattack unless pushed to the wall.

Knowing this, they know something else of critical importance — that the United States cannot prepare armament for a specific project. It builds its defenses at random, hoping it may end up with enough of everything to cover every eventuality.

But its militarists and military procurement experts never sit down together to prepare a master plan of offense against a specific enemy, knowing how many offensive weapons would be required to carry out a preconceived battle plan. This kind of buildup is the prerogative of nations that believe in war as an instrument of national policy.

It enabled the German Reich to build the planes and mobile weapons required to knock over France. It enabled Japan to build a naval and air fleet to wage war against the United States. It enabled the sawdust Caesar Mussolini to get ready for a specific campaign in his "Mare Nostrum."

Preparing to launch aggressive war against a predetermined enemy is not a prerogative of the United States. Even in relation to a possible war against the Soviet Union, it cannot be done.

The United States must guess what Russian militarists might do and try to offset every possibility.

On the Right Road

Young men dedicated to community service that transcends personal gain.

This, perhaps, best describes the youths at Salem Senior High School who are members of the Key Club, an organization at the school level that is patterned after our active Kiwanis clubs. The boys who participate in the Key club unquestionably will become outstanding citizens in later life. We admire their dedication and purpose.

Letter From Max

By Martin R. Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

You may have heard about the guy who was so fair-minded he always said the other fellows point of view and leaned over backwards to discount his own convictions, even voting the opposition ticket in elections. We should live so long.

If you want to get a rise out of your nonobjective painting friends, you can quote to them John Ruskin's criticism of James McNeil Whistler's "Nocturne in Black and Gold." Ruskin wrote, "I never expected to hear a coxcomb ask 200 guineas for flinging a pot of paint in the public's face," and Whistler sued him for libel. That was in 1878.

Every time the snow melts, leaving the ground bare, the yard around our house looks like litterbugs had just finished a picnic out there.

Speaking of snow, you no doubt have observed with interest the trails blazed on the pristine blanket by dogs; from a shrub, to a utility pole, to a corner of a shed, to another shrub, and so on, to read the latest signs.

Next fall try your snowblower on accumulations of leaves on your lawn and let us know what happens.

The outcome of the Bobby Baker and Jack Ruby cases is more in doubt than a public hanging. Spectacular inquiries and trials appeal to the same sort of morbid fascination as hangings used to. Who needs fiction mystery stories?

If you want to be honest about it you have to admit those Beatles are a bunch of long-hairs.

As a dog expert you may be able to help a pooch we know whose forepaw frequently gets caught in her choke-chain, causing her to hobble around on three legs for hours without complaint.

You know about palindromes, those words or lines which read the same backwards as forwards, but you might be as surprised as I was to discover that palindromes go back to the Greek poet Sotades of the 3rd Century, B.C., and sometimes are also called Sotadics. Probably the best known sotadic, or palindrome, attributed to Napoleon: "Able was I ere I saw Elba." Here are two other long ones, "Dog as a devil defied, defied lived as a god," and "Lewd I did live, evil did I dwell."

Transplant Misgivings

By JOSEPH R. HIXSON
Herald Tribune News Service

NEW YORK — Now that everybody has hailed the wonders of grafting human kidneys, spleens, livers, lungs and hearts, doctors are beginning to wonder what sort of genie they have let out of the medicine bottle.

One of the most respected medical journals in the country ran a pessimistic six-page editorial recently that questions virtually every facet of organ transplantation.

The editorial was written by Dr. J. Russell Elkinton, professor of medicine at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine and editor of "Annals of Internal Medicine." It comes as no surprise to anyone who attended the conference on transplants that attracted over 700 doctors recently in New York City.

During the final sessions of that three-day meeting a number of misgivings were voiced from the floor by doctors who were uneasy over lung, liver and heart transplants which surgeons know in advance are doomed to medical failure and have their principal value as "research."

Dr. Elkinton says, in essence, that doctors are not yet ready and may never be ready to cope with the moral and medical issues raised when corpses — like World War II Jeeps — are "cannibalized" for spare parts.

He notes that removal of a kidney from a healthy donor may cost the giver 25 to 30 years of life if the opposite kidney becomes diseased, whereas at present, the recipient stands to gain, at best, 25 to 30 months of life.

The man who has performed more kidney transplants more successfully than any other spoke to reporters at the transplant conference in the same vein.

"Our basic job as doctors is to prevent disability, not encourage it," said Boston's Dr. Joseph E. Murray, I, for one am not entirely comfortable about removing a sound organ from a healthy person. Whenever we can, we try to graft what we call a 'free' kidney, one that is not itself diseased but which has to be removed from a patient to help overcome a disease."

In his editorial, Dr. Elkinton wonders whether, despite doctors' advance cautions and deprecations, patients and their families don't frequently expect the graft to restore normal life for prolonged periods. Doctors today consider a kidney transplant "successful" if it functions for one year.

At the conference on organ grafting this reporter was told "off the record" that no plastic heart valves have functioned for more than three years. And the body's defenses don't attack the plastic the way the immune system peppers a kidney or other organ with antibodies. The new drugs can perform wonders in suppressing the body's immune defenses but that leaves the patient a ready prey for infection.

Sen. Smith's Campaign

By GWEN GIBSON
Herald Tribune News Service

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine has firmly implanted her trade marks—high heels and red roses—as symbols of presidential politics nearly as well known as former President Eisenhower's grin or Sen. Estes Kefauver's coon-skin cap.

She did so with a 1,000-mile sweep of New Hampshire recently which was easily the daintiest national campaign trip of the century.

The delicate-looking senator is out to make an impressive showing against a field of male opponents in New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation presidential primary March 10.

She started her campaign in sub-zero weather and before dawn last Feb. 10, near the headwaters of the Connecticut River—farther north than any of her rivals have ventured. While Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, her chief GOP opponents were barnstorming with planes, banners, buttons and sound trucks, Mrs. Smith drove quietly about by private car, like a favorite auntie calling on relatives.

SHE USED none of the normal accouterments of politics. No hands blared, no rallies were staged, and few speeches were made. Mrs. Smith's schedule itself seems to grow out of the ether as she and her two aids—William Lewis and Bill (not William) Deachman—drove from New Hampshire's north country through the center of the state and on to Keene, in the southwest corner, where she concluded her initial, six-day presidential stumping tour.

She was so impressed with the "warmth" of her reception in the Granite State that she vowed to return often before the March 10 voting, even if it means marring her prized attendance record in the Senate; she has answered more than 1,500 roll calls, and missed only one, since being elected in 1948.

The handsome silver-haired lady of 66 is the first woman to seek the presidential nomination in the 20th century. Two others tried it in campaigns of 1872 and 1884, respectively, Victoria Claflin Woodhull, who espoused free love and spiritualism, and Belva Ann Lockwood, a more sedate Washington lawyer. Their campaigns hardly got off the boards.

SEN. SMITH may not win, place or show in 1964, but already she's making such a mark that two of her ambitions will probably be recognized. She has said she hopes to end "any political bigotry against women" and to "pioneer the way for a woman to be elected president in the future." She also probably wants to figure seriously as a 1964 vice presidential candidate, and there are no vice presidential primaries.

Often losing a handful of trailing reporters who could not always fathom her extemporized itinerary, Mrs. Smith adopted a technique that smacked of Kefauver's homespun style when he entered—and won—the New Hampshire primaries of 1952 and 1956.

She seemed to be seeking the "little vote." She visited one hamlet (Mellsworth) with only nine registered voters and discussed foreign policy by oil lamp with a local couple. She made a circuitous drive to reach another village (near Derby) where she visited a paralyzed youth and shook hands with no more than four voters.

SHE VISITED beauty shops and barber shops, super markets and five-and-dimes. She strolled the streets of Concord, Manchester, Salem, Nashua and other towns to stop voters, extend her unglorified hand and tell them softly: "I'm Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, and I'm running for president."

Asked about reports that she was "fronting for Goldwater," Sen. Smith told the reporter, her blue eyes snapping: "Would I be getting up at 6 a.m., and on the run until midnight every night if I weren't serious?"

Furthermore I have no brief for those who say I'm merely muddying the waters."

Regardless of what happens in New Hampshire, she plans to enter the Illinois and "possibly" the California primary.

Money Spends

By RAYMOND MOLEY

It won't do much good to write to your congressman about what Mr. Johnson is spending this election year. The present Congress can't do anything about two-thirds of what he is going to pass out. It was authorized by the same or other congressmen and senators back in other years. If you write, tell him or her to watch what is being authorized for next year or the next, and so on ad infinitum.

There is a tricky aspect of this President's budget and those of other Presidents which Congress has permitted over the past generation. There are at least two budgets — or, rather, two ways of reading the budget.

Chairman Clarence Cannon of the Appropriations Committee of the House explained this in a speech after the Johnson budget message had been presented. It is spelled out now in an excellent publication by the Tax Foundation (50 Rockefeller Plaza, New York City), a non-partisan agency which is trying to keep government expenses down.

THIS STUDY explains that one budget concerns itself with expenditures in given years. The other has to do with what is called "new obligational authority."

The former tells what the President wants Congress to appropriate or what he can spend out of what was already authorized before this year. The latter is what he wants in "new authorization authority."

To show how much of this year's spending Congress can't do much about, the Tax Foundation presents a table for fiscal 1964.

At the top of the table is the figure which Mr. Johnson has been boasting about. It is the "total estimated expenditures" in fiscal 1964, $98.8 billion. Even this figure, as Chairman Cannon told the House, is phony because there will be many "supplemental" appropriations which you won't read much about in your newspapers.

This will bring the spending up around what Mr. Kennedy would have spent.

OF THIS $98.8 BILLION, only $30 billion can be relatively controlled by Congress. The remaining $68.8 billion was already committed before 1964.

It covers these items:

Expenditures from obligation authority of prior years, $42.4 billion.

Contributions to trust funds, payments of claims, and payments required by treaties and international obligations, $6.8 billion.

Expenditures under permanent and indefinite authorizations, $10.9 billion.

Expenditures to liquidate contract authorizations, $900 million.

Expenditures under "open-end" programs, $4.3 billion.

Expenditures of government enterprises (public enterprise revolving funds), $3.5 billion.

In those wonderful, quiet days before World War I, when you could get a cigar or an ice cream soda for 5 cents, when Lyndon Johnson was born and Clarence Cannon began to practice law in Troy, Mis., annual appropriations and annual expenditures were virtually identical. But at about the time when Rudyard Kipling said something about "the brave new world," there came the years when people believed that they should be "forward-looking."

THE IDEA was to borrow from and pledge the future for present enjoyment. Everybody got into the act. People bought automobiles with a down payment who had no remote idea of where the monthly payments were to come from. Bankers forgot to say "no."

People bought stock on a shoe-string margin. All went well until — you know when.

But Congress couldn't go broke because it still could borrow from the future and saddle a new generation with what it spent. Many wise individuals who have read the Constitution have pointed to the words therein: "No money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by Congress."

Many remedies have been suggested, and one of the best was introduced in a bill sponsored by those stalwart men, Senators Harry F. Byrd and John J. Williams and Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin.

This bill, if enacted, "would amend the rules of both the House and Senate so that all expenditure authorizations, including those from past years, would be brought together in a single bill to be known as the General Expenditure Authorization Act."

Needless to say, this bill was not made law. And the way has been opened to a great spending spree by President Johnson, who makes people believe he is an economical President.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

The Writer Is Right

Dear Ann: The letter from the man who signed himself "Mere Male" should be reproduced and handed to every young groom—along with his marriage certificate. In my opinion, it's the classic example of what ails the American husband.

This man wrote you a pathetic letter saying he didn't want much out of life, just a few small considerations—like getting the newspaper in readable condition. He complained that by the time the rest of the family got through with the paper it wasn't fit to wrap garbage in.

You—a newspaper woman to the end—ignored the central problem and suggested a second subscription.

Don't you see this is precisely what is wrong with the American home? The females run everything. The father-husband is supposed to pay the bills, keep the gas tank filled and his trap shut. I'm sure you KNOW all this Ann Landers, so—why don't you live up to your responsibility and say it?—ANOTHER ONE.

Dear One: You are right and I apologize. But I've said it so many times I didn't want to be a bore.

In the Landers column I repeatedly point out what the male's position in the family should be.

Unfortunately, many men want to be dominated and pushed around and these males invariably find a woman who is happy to oblige.

Soused Spouse

Dear Ann I'm so humiliated I don't know what to do. Last night was our 20th wedding anniversary. We had 40 guests in for a catered dinner. My husband got so plastered that when the guests began to leave he went to the front closet, put on his coat and hat and started to go home with his mother and dad.

Franklin is not what you would call a drinking man. The last time he was intoxicated was seven years ago when he had too much wine.

Our friends are not heavy drinkers. A few of the men got to feeling good but Franklin was the only one noticeably under the influence. To be the only drunk person at a party is bad enough, but when one is the host it is indefensible.

Franklin's mother was horrified and phoned at 7:30 this morning to see how he was. Well, he is still in bed and it is noon. His mother is worried that he may become an alcoholic. May we hear from you?—A POUND OF PREVENTION.

Dear Pound: I don't think Franklin's mother has much to worry about.

From your description of the shambles, I'd be willing to bet Franklin won't touch a drop for a long time.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Greek King Suffers Blood Clot of Lung

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Paul of Greece suffered another medical complication today, and Premier George Papandreu was summoned urgently to Tatoi Palace where the monarch lay.

Palace doctors announced that the king, 62, who had been convalescing from a stomach ulcer operation two weeks ago, suffered a blood clot in his left lung.

The palace disclosed Sunday that the king had developed a blood clot in his right leg and had been put back in bed because of painful swelling. The palace medical team said that despite the clots the monarch's general condition was "presently not a cause for concern."

The day before King Paul underwent surgery, he named his only son, Crown Prince Constantine, 23, as regent to act in his place.

Casino Operator To Testify At Baker Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward Levinson, Las Vegas, Nev., hotel owner and gambling casino operator, showed up at the Senate Rules Committee today to testify in the Bobby Baker investigation.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., the committee chairman, said Levinson came to the committee's office and accepted service of a subpoena.

Testimony from Levinson was scheduled for today's hearing, after questioning of William Kentor, a Chicago meat dealer, about fees being paid Baker on meat imported from a slaughterhouse in Haiti owned by the Murchison interests of Texas.

The committee said last week it had U.S. marshals searching for Levinson and for Benjamin Sigelbaum, a Miami, Fla., real estate operator.

Committee aides said no word had been received from Sigelbaum.

Both Levinson and Sigelbaum are stockholders in the Serve-U Corp., a vending machine company in which Baker has a major interest.

Over the weekend Sen. Hugh Scott accused the government of being determined to block the Baker inquiry and asked, "What do people high in government have to hide?"

Children Burned Alive at Auschwitz Ex-Inmate Says

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Children were thrown alive onto burning piles of rubbish near the Auschwitz concentration camp's gas ovens, an inmate of the camp testified today.

Dr. Ella Lingens, 55, an official of the Austrian Social Ministry, was an inmate physician in the women's section of the camp.

"I first couldn't believe the SS guards would burn children alive," she told the court.

United Board to Consider Budget

A new 1964 appropriation, listing $512,093 in the general fund, and a proposed new salary schedule improving the 55 teachers' financial lot will be deliberated tonight by the Board of Education of the United School District.

An architect to draw up plans for a school addition may also be named.

The new salary schedule, proposed by the administration, will be the first across-the-board increase since September, 1962, if the board complies with Supt. Chester Brautigam's recommendations.

An increase was granted, effective last September, to those teachers with 11 years or more of experience and a bachelor's degree.

The current salary range is $4,200 to $5,300 for teachers with a BS degree and $4,600 to $5,920 for those with a master's degree.

The board has interviewed four architects, all of whom have recommended the construction of a new senior high school housing the top three grades rather than an addition to both the elementary and secondary sections of the present school.

The group may visit some of the schools designed by the architects interviewed before an appointment is made.

Driverless Auto Halted by Woman

Mrs. Leona Dore, 58, of 1220 S. Lundy Ave. averted a possible serious mishap Sunday at 2:30 p.m. when she stopped her driverless car after its brakes had been released by her grandson, Jackie Lee Cable, 7, in front of his home at 604 Deming St.

Mrs. Dore reported she was visiting the Cables when she noticed her car moving down the grade. She said she was knocked down by the car door as she tried to stop the vehicle, but got up and pulled the boy out of the vehicle before she brought it to a halt.

The woman said the boy had been playing in the car.

Her grandson suffered a scratch on his back, Mrs. Dore said. She declared she planned to be examined by her physician today to ascertain whether she suffered an injury when she was knocked down.

Four Nabbed On Bogus Money Count

CINCINNATI (AP)—Federal authorities were expected to file charges today against four men accused of belonging to a counterfeit ring that was smashed over the weekend.

Secret Service agents said more than $100,000 in good quality $10 and $20 Federal Reserve notes were confiscated.

Arnold J. Lau, head of the Cincinnati Secret Service office, said the roundup began Saturday night when Harold Anle Thornberry, 42, of Covington, Ky., was arrested while trying to deliver $75,000 in bogus money to an undercover agent.

Another Covington man, John L. Newman, 47, was arrested at the same time. Lau said Newman drove Thornberry to suburban Sharonville for the delivery.

Agents then went to the ranch-type home of William Edward Lewis Jr., 33, of Cincinnati, an engraver. They said that they found a press, counterfeiting plates and negatives in the adjoining garage, as well as around $34,000 in bogus money.

Donald Hughes, 24, of Cincinnati, was also arrested. Lau said Hughes, who is unemployed, helped to arrange the deal between Thornberry and the undercover agent.

The Secret Service said it did not know how many of the phony bills had been passed. Lau said many have turned up all over Kentucky, and others were reported at Cincinnati, Hamilton and Portsmouth, Ohio.

The undercover agent was to have paid Thornberry $20 for each $100 in counterfeit money, Lau said.

Lau described Lewis and Thornberry as the principals in the ring and said they apparently acted as their own salesmen and distributors. He noted that Lewis, who is married and has four children, was making a comfortable living as a commercial engraver.

All four men were held overnight in the Hamilton County Jail.

retirement.

Doctors told the former astronaut, America's pioneer orbital space hero, he was not ready to leave the hospital. Glenn still complains of dizziness when he moves around in his room at Grant Hospital in Columbus, although he is reported in good condition and progressing well.

Glenn therefore decided to delay his retirement. Marine retirement orders are effective only on the first of a month. So campaigning by the 42-year-old political tyro, if it does start April 1, must be compressed into a 34-day span before the May 5 Ohio primary elections.

Glenn cannot, he says, disclose his opinions on major issues until he is out of the service because of Federal Hatch Act restrictions.

Metalious Estate To Go to Children

LACONIA, N.H. (AP) — The estate of "Peyton Place" author Grace Metalious — estimated at up to $1 million — apparently will go to her three children.

The sole beneficiary of her deathbed will, John Rees, notified the late author's lawyer, Bernard I. Snierston of Laconia, Sunday that he is giving up his claim.

Snierston said Rees' action might result in an agreement to reinstate the terms of an earlier will.

The Metalious children, Mrs. Marsha Dupuis, 20; Christopher, 17; and Cynthia, 13, were named the beneficiaries under the earlier will, signed in 1958. Rees, a former British journalist, told a news conference in Boston last week that he had met the author last fall.

He and Mrs. Metalious had been collaborating on a book intended for publication next year, he said.

Mrs. Metalious, 39, had signed a new will last Monday night in a Boston hospital, naming Rees sole beneficiary and excluding the three children. She died of a liver ailment the next day.

particularly good economic performance in 1964, the Johnson administration... offers... an economic policy which, by its own admission, will heat up the economy this year more than three times greater than in any other peacetime year," the Republicans said.

This policy, the minority charged, is "inviting inflation and other excesses," especially when 119 major collective bargaining contracts are up for renewal and unions are seeking substantial wage increases.

The Republicans concluded that "rather than cutting spending—as he claims to have done—the President is increasing expenditures but at a less rapid rate than in recent years."

Sheriff's Office

Probes 2 Burglaries

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan's office is investigating two recent area burglaries.

Thieves entered the Sunoco Service Station at Sub-Station, northwest of East Liverpool, between 1 and 6 a.m. Saturday and took a money bag containing $50.

The station is operated by W. C. Roberts. Sheriff's deputies were unable to find any forcible entry to the station and assumed the door or a window may have been left open accidentally.

Deputies also are checking the theft of two batteries, three wheels and tires, electric drill and power saw from the garage at the home of Mrs. Mildred Hole, Clarkson-Spruceville Rd., sometime last week.

Friend Attempts To Aid Driver Is Also Arrested

A vain attempt by Glen D. Thomas, 27, of 487½ E. 7th St. to aid his friend, Robert H. Talbot, 27, of Vienna, who was arrested for reckless operation, backfired as city police cited Thomas for disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and intoxication.

According to police, they stopped Talbot on E. State St. at 3:45 a.m. Sunday for reckless operation when Thomas, who was following in another auto, stopped and demanded that he be allowed to go along to city hall also.

The police said "no" because they had no business with Thomas. Later, however, after Patrolmen Donald Bradley and Paul Fast had taken Talbot to headquarters, Thomas walked in and began arguing with the police, they reported. They escorted him out of the office and shut the door.

Thomas went to the business window and began arguing once more. The police said they would arrest him if he didn't leave.

He told them they couldn't arrest him.

They did.

Thomas pleaded guilty to all charges and was fined $20 and costs when he appeared before Mayor Dean B. Cranmer Sunday. The charge of resisting arrest was dismissed by the mayor.

Talbot forfeited a $20 bond.

IN MAYOR'S COURT

John L. Emelo, 42, of 315 Ohio Ave. was fined $150 and costs by Mayor Dean Cranmer last week on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol. He was cited by police Feb. 26.

Indonesia Hurls Threats At Malaysia

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Another round of ministerial talks on the Malaysian dispute begins in Bangkok Tuesday with little hope of solution as Indonesia hurled new threats of extermination at Malaysia.

As the foreign ministers of Indonesia, the Philippines and Malaysia prepared to meet, the Indonesian Information Ministry said President Sukarno's government is still determined to wreck the young federation of former British colonies. But the statement added that the dispute should be settled peacefully.

Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, Indonesia's defense minister, denounced anew Britain's retention of military bases in Malaysia, whose Borneo border with Indonesia is guarded by British as well as Malaysian forces.

Charging that British bases bring "chaos and conflict" throughout Asia and the Middle East, Nasution said Asian bases should be manned by Asians.

He denied that Indonesia wants to seize Malaysian territory, saying: "Indonesia's only aim is to free the people there from imperialism."

Malaysia ordered more troops to its Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah because of reported new clashes along the frontier.

Malaysian officials said the situation along the 800-mile border with Indonesian Borneo was "rapidly deteriorating." They reported Indonesian-backed terrorists killed six persons over the weekend.

At the foreign ministers' meeting, Malaysia will demand that an estimated 200 anti-Malaysian guerrillas in Sarawak and Sabah be withdrawn or disarmed, and that the cease-fire negotiated by U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy in January be made effective.

School Finance To Be Discussed

How much do you know about the State Foundation program and its relationship to financial support of the Salem School District?

District residents can get the answers to their questions on this important subject tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the choral room of the Senior High School.

Supt. of Schools Paul E. Smith says there is no better source of information in Ohio than Beynon on the state's money role in education.

Lisbon Eliminated 78-50; District Tournament Set

Chaney, Wilson Vie Wednesday

Harding, Boardman Slated Thursday

By MARK W. MILLER
News Sports Editor
Lisbon, the last Columbiana County school in tournament competition, has been eliminated.

Falling behind 21-5 in the first quarter, the Blue Devils were never able to even make it close as Woodrow Wilson triumphed 78-50 in the Class AA Sectional finals at South Field House Saturday night.

In doing so, the Presidents joined Warren Harding, Boardman and Youngstown Chaney for this week's district event.

At the drawing, Chaney chose Wilson to play, and the two schools will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. That left the Panthers and the Spartans, who are slated Thursday at the same time. The finals are scheduled Saturday.

ALTHOUGH SLIGHTLY taller, Lisbon was unable to stop Rich Buzin, a 6-5, 245-lb.-star for the Presidents.

In the first two minutes of action, Buzin put the sectional champs ahead 3-0. Larry Weber, Lisbon's only consistent scorer, made an easy layup to cut the deficit to 3-2.

That was the nearest the Blue Devils got. In the remaining time in the first frame, Wilson picked up 18 points, while holding the losers to four.

The Presidents spurred for eight, Dave Rose made a push shot for the Blue Devils, and Wilson spurred for eight more markers, before a 20-foot push shot by Lisbon's Tim Bucher ended the session.

WEBBER, ROSE and Bucher contributed 14 of Lisbon's 18 points in the second session. The Blue Devils having their best quarter hit on eight of 16 shots for 50 per cent.

During the same span, the Presidents earned eight of 20 and seven straight at the foul line, and at intermission enjoyed a commanding 44-23 margin.

During the contest, Coach Gary Pike had his team employed 2-1 and 3-2 zones on defense, but the tactics failed to stop Buzin, who hit on 10 of 21 from the field and 9 of 10 from the foul line.

Woodrow Wilson kept up its relentless attack in the third period, upping its margin to 60-35.

ONE OF THE smallest tournament crowds so far, 1,466 fans, watched the battle.

From the field, Lisbon tried 73 shots and made 20 for 27.3 per cent. The Blue Devils tossed in 10 of 20 from the foul line for 50 per cent.

The Presidents attempted 78 field goals and earned 30 for 38.5 per cent. Woodrow Wilson was uncanny from the foul line, tossing in 18 of 21 for a spectacular 85.5 per cent.

Lisbon made fewer turnovers 16, compared to 18 for the winners. The Presidents controlled the boards pulling down 49 rebounds, compared to 43 for the losers.

Nick Kanos chalked up 13 points for the winners. Ted Nicoll netted 12, and Tony DelBane, 11. Lisbon led all rebounders, as he cleared the boards 18 times. Webber hauled in 13 for Lisbon.

The Blue Devils finished the campaign with a highly successful 16-5 record, and placed second in the tough Tri-County League.

Boardman has the best mark (19-2) going into district competition. Chaney is next with 16-4, Woodrow Wilson, 16-6, and Harding, 15-6. The Panthers are defending champions.

Rudolph Has 4-Stroke Lead At New Orleans With 208

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Mason Rudolph goes into today's final round of the $50,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tournament with a four-stroke advantage over big Jack Nicklaus.

Tied for the lead the first day, Rudolph took sole possession of first place the second day and kept it Sunday. His 54-hole score was 68-71-70-208.

Nicklaus, who rates the Lakewood Country Club course, at 7,020 yards, as one of the six toughest on the PA tour, carded an erratic 72 Sunday.

Wes Ellis Jr. stood one stroke behind Nicklaus with a 213 after shaving five strokes off par

Sunday with a 67—best round of the tournament.

Rudolph threatened to run away with the lead until he came to the 18th hole, a long par four. For the first time Sunday, he missed a green.

Arnold Palmer, nearing the half-million dollar mark in winnings, scrambled to a 72 with what he called a very miserable round.

Palmer was tied at 219 with Julius Boros, U.S. Open champion, who will turn 44 Tuesday. Boros carded a 73.

South African Gary Player three-putted three greens and ballooned to a 74 for a 223—barely surviving the cut for the final 18 holes.

Salem 7th Grade Unit Romps 39-25, 8th Graders Lose

Merlin Davidson climaxed his first year as head basketball coach of the Salem Junior High seventh and eighth grade teams with a most impressive record.

The undefeated Quaker seventh graders whipped Ravenna 39-25 in the finals of the invitational tournament at junior high gym Saturday night. It was the 14th win in a row for the young Red and Black juggernaut.

The Salem eighth grade unit was handed a 67-41 setback in the finals of its tourney bracket by a powerful East Liverpool Westgate squad.

In consolation action, West Branch edged Boardman 17-16 in a seventh grade contest, and East Liverpool clipped Ravenna 61-56 in an eighth grade clash.

Looking sharp all season, the Salem seventh grade unit knocked out the Red and Black edged the host Ravens 40-36 Feb. 11.

The Quakers took a 6-4 lead in the initial period, increased their margin to 17-9 in the second session, then broke the game wide open in the third canto by outscoring the losers 17-8.

Chuck Jackson paced the Red and Black with nine points. Val Altamero chipped in with eight, Scot Cody, seven, and George Spack six.

Westgate fell behind 13-10 in the initial frame, but retaliated to take a 34-20 margin at half time, and held a commanding 53-26 margin at the end of the third stanza.

McVay took scoring honors for the winners with 10 baskets and three foul shots for 23 points. Campbell chipped in with 19 markers.

Ross led the Quakers with seven baskets for 14 points. Kenny Kenst netted eight.

East Liverpool East took an 18-13 lead over Ravenna in the initial, fell behind 34-32 at intermission, then rallied to take a 47-41 lead at the end of the third quarter.

Jones canned 11 baskets and two foul shots to take scoring honors for the winners. Christian chalked up 15 and Lovejoy finished with 11.

NIT Officials Hope Wichita Wins Spot In NCAA Event; Army Romps

By MURRAY CHASS

National Invitation Tournament officials have nothing against the Wichita basketball team, but they're hoping the Wheatshockers go to the NCAA tournament.

That's why the NIT selectors will be rooting for the Shockers tonight in their Missouri Valley Conference game with North Texas State.

If that's confusing, consider the tournament situation from Wichita's standpoint. Under a conference penalty, fifth-ranked Wichita can play in the NCAA if it wins the MVC championship, but it can't play in the NIT under any circumstances.

To win the league title, the Shockers first must beat North Texas. That would put them into a first-place tie with Drake. A playoff Friday at Lawrence, Kan., then would decide the NCAA representative.

That brings the situation back to the NIT. If Wichita wins the NCAA berth, the NIT instantly would invite Drake. But if the Bulldogs win, the NIT would lose both teams.

The strange ban was placed on Wichita last Aug. 29 for an allegedly illegal recruiting maneuver. The MVC fined Wichita $1,000 and imposed a two-year ban against post-season competition in "other than NCAA sponsored and sanctioned events."

League Commissioner Norval Neve later explained that meant the NIT.

While awaiting further developments, though, the NIT is moving ahead in filling some of the six remaining spots in the March 12-21 tournament. The selection committee was expected to name two teams today, most likely St. Joseph's of Philadelphia and Miami, Fla.

Four teams moved into the two tournaments Saturday. Army became the sixth NIT entrant following its 75-55 triumph over Navy while the addition of Kentucky, Virginia Military and Murray State left the NCAA with nine teams to go.

At least seven of the nine spots will be filled this week.

Other leading prospects who can clinch berths this week are Princeton, Texas A&M, Ohio Univ. and Arizona State. Michigan and Kansas State also could enter the NCAA this week, but it's also possible they'll have to wait until next Monday.

Virginia Military, a consistent loser in the basketball wars, ignited the loudest explosion in entering the NCAA by way of the Southern Conference championship.

VMI's 61-56 victory over George Washington in the conference final Saturday night gave the Keydets a 12-11 record.

That marked the first time in 21 years and the third in 34 that VMI finished the regular season with a winning record. The 12 victories also represent the most a VMI team has won in the 50-year history of the sport at the school.

Needless to say, the league crown and NCAA spot also were the first for the Keydets.

Virginia Military's unconditional triumph easily overshadowed the victories of the nine of the top ten teams that played.

Seventh-ranked Davidson had completed its season abruptly Friday night, losing to VMI.

UCLA, No. 1, coasted to its 24th victory without a defeat, trampling Washington State 93-56. Cotton Nash scored only five points, but second-ranked Kentucky, 21-3, won the Southeastern Conference title with a 42-30 decision over Tennessee.

Michigan maintained its first-place tie with Ohio State in the Big Ten by outlasting Illinois 89-83. The nation's No. 3 team now is 19-3. Fourth-ranked Duke, 20-4, wallowed North Carolina 104-69 in its last game before the ACC playoffs.

Wichita, No. 5, increased its record to 20-5 with a 98-79 decision over Tulsa. Sixth-ranked Oregon State finished its season by downing Oregon 85-71 for its 25th triumph in 28 contests.

Villanova, the No. 8 team with a 21-3 record, whipped Temple 67-60 in a battle of NCAA-bound teams while ninth-ranked DePaul, 20-2, whipped Duquesne 84-65 in a game involving NIT teams.

Loyola of Chicago, No. 10, toyed with Marshall 117-63 for its 19th victory against five losses.

UCLA hosts California tonight in the unbeaten team's next-to-last regular season game while Kentucky closes its regular season with St. Louis.

Tribe Holds Intrasquad Game Sunday

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Six pitchers who are expected to carry much of the load for the Cleveland Indians this year have looked sharp in their first mound duty of the spring training season.

Working in the Tribe's first intrasquad game Sunday were regular starters Pedro Ramos, Jack Kralick and Dick Donovan and veteran relievers Gary Bell, Ted Abernathy and Jerry Walker.

A squad coached by Elmer Valo, beat a team coached by George Strickland, 5-2, but it was confusing in that each pitcher hurled an inning for each team.

There was a total of 13 hits, but no player got more than one. Kralick and Abernathy were the most effective, neither giving up a hit in the two innings each worked.

Ramos didn't have any trouble until he tried to go an extra inning. He wound up allowing four runs on five hits.

Bell was tagged for two runs and five hits in three innings and Donovan gave up one hit and no runs in two. Walker allowed two hits and a run.

Centennial Park Team Ist To Enter Tourney

The Centennial Park Grocery squad is the first team to enter the 29th annual Little City Basketball Tournament.

A field of 32 teams will compete for trophy awards in the Junior High School Parent-Teacher Assn.-sponsored event slated at Senior High gymnasium April 6 through 11.

Also included in the classic will be a teachers bracket, featuring Salem Junior faculty and limited to eight teams.

Interested persons who would like to enter their teams should contact tournament director David Brinken.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

A few weeks ago a fellow came in here from Lisbon. He has stopped in at the Country Store many times. He asked me if it would be alright if he set up a little display here and gave away a sweeper or an electric sewing machine. Usually I say no to deals like this but because he was a local fellow trying to make a living I told him it would be alright.

Sarah Entrikin of Franklin Square was the winner of the sweeper. She was in and is real happy to be the winner.

Now those of you who registered and did not win may be called upon to see if since you did not win you might want to purchase one. He promised me he would do nothing which would offend any of my customers and I feel sure he will keep his promise.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Health Questions And Answers

—What is the difference between "essential" and "malignant" hypertension? My doctor prescribed hydrochlorothiazide.

Dr. Brandstadt

Will I have to take it for the rest of my life? What are its side effects?

A — Essential hypertension is high blood pressure for which no cause is apparent. Some persons have this condition for many years without developing any serious complications. But when complications develop, the condition is known as malignant hypertension.

The things your doctor watches for are characteristic changes in the retina, albumin in the urine, a persistent diastolic blood pressure (the lower reading) of more than 110, enlargement of the heart and an apoplectic stroke.

If persons with essential hypertension are given appropriate treatment, they should be able to avoid these complications. But if early signs do occur, it is essential to bring the blood pressure down and keep it down. Hydrochlorothiazide is a diuretic; that is, it is used to combat waterlogging.

In many persons with high blood pressure it is the only treatment needed, but can be given with other drugs. Side effects include weakness, thirst, nausea and muscle cramps. They are not a reason to stop the medicine but rather to adjust the dosage.

—Is a blood test a sure way of detecting syphilis? What is the cure?

A — Blood tests are used to make a presumptive diagnosis of syphilis. If positive, other tests are often used to confirm. The best treatment is penicillin or a closely related drug. If the proper dose is used, one injection will give a quick cure in persons who are treated early in the course of the disease before any permanent damage is done to a vital organ.

—What is the cause of lupus erythematosus (L.E.)? Can it be aggravated by drugs or hair dyes?

A — The cause of L.E. is unknown. Some authorities believe there is a hereditary factor in some victims. There is a form of L.E. that may be activated by prolonged consumption of large doses of drugs such as procainamide (for irregularities of the pulse), hydralazine (for high blood pressure), diphenylhydantoin or trimethadione (for epilepsy), or isonicotinic hydrazine (for tuberculosis). This form of L.E. is usually mild.

According to the Council on Cosmetics of the American Medical Association, no case of L.E. has ever been attributed to a hair dye.

RELAXED PRESIDENT — President Johnson, in casual garb, relaxes for a moment at his LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex. The ranch is a working spread. Some 270 Hereford beef cattle are being raised there.

Your Election Laws...

By Ted W. Brown
Secretary of State of Ohio

With the day of the primary election still more than two months away, election officials are already concerning themselves with the preparation of the ballots.

To the average voter, who comes to the polling place on election day and receives his ballots, their preparation and printing probably seems a simple matter. Actually the conduct of honest and efficient elections requires carefully prepared ballots which comply with the election laws in every respect.

A moment's consideration of the ballot as it once was, earlier in our history, clearly demonstrates the importance of our present day strict and detailed requirements, which might otherwise seem too rigid.

A CENTURY AGO ballots were not printed by the state at all. They were printed by the candidates and the parties, and each ballot contained the names of the candidates of only one party, or sometimes the name of only one candidate. To cast his vote, a citizen selected the ballots of the people he wanted to vote for and put them in the ballot box. If he wanted to vote for someone whose name was not on any printed ballot, he had to write his vote on a scrap of paper and put that in the box. The ballots were of various colors, and a poll watcher could tell how a person voted by seeing what kind of ballots he put in the box.

Later, when ballots were printed as they now are, they were sometimes printed on light paper so that the voter's marks showed through when he folded it, and again the poll watchers could tell how any person voted. Also, when care was not taken to prevent it, voters sometimes brought to the polls ballots already marked for them by people outside the polling places.

Sometimes one candidate's name was printed in larger type. Sometimes a candidate's name was purposely misspelled. Sometimes a candidate's name was left off entirely.

TO PREVENT THESE and many other forms of abuse and dishonesty which have in the past cropped up in the conduct of elections, the election laws have evolved over the years into a rather complex and detailed system. The laws prescribe, for example, the weight and quality of paper on which ballots must be printed, the size and style of type, the color of the paper, and many other details.

To prevent the use of ballots printed and marked by "others" outside the polls, the ballots bear facsimile signatures of the election board members on the back. The numbered stubs which are removed before the ballot is placed in the box is a further safeguard against the appearance of fraudulent ballots among those to be counted. To prevent any candidate or party from gaining an unfair advantage, the names of the candidates are rotated on the ballot. To prevent errors and misspellings the ballots are carefully proofread and submitted to the Secretary of State for approval.

Dow-Jones Averages Finally Hit 800 Mark

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The long-drawn-out flirtation of the Dow-Jones industrial averages with the 800 mark that has fascinated stock market followers finally came to the moment of truth. After several times pushing the popular index that high earlier in the day only to see it fall back, the bulls finally scored a closing figure of 800.14 Friday.

The psychological victory is due to the round figure's capture of public fancy.

But many critics think this and other popular averages aren't the best indicators of the market as a whole. They mirror only blue chips, even if some of these may have become a bit pallid in recent years or months. The general market hasn't swung up as vigorously. Many stocks—perhaps some of yours—haven't moved at all or have fallen back.

Reasons for the long upturn in the popular indexes are closely tied to psychology as well as to the dollar and cents matters of earnings and dividends.

The federal tax cut has bolstered confidence in an upcoming surge in the business of many of the corporations whose stocks appear in the averages. Stock traders long may have discounted this factor, but the general public tended to respond only as the bill took final form. It may well carry this confidence into actual stock buying when the benefits of the tax cut are realized in pay checks.

Both the public and the big institutional buyers apparently have concentrated for several months on blue chips and dealt more gingerly with less known or newer issues. It has been a general period of caution in business and finance.

Even so, not one of the 30 stocks on the Dow Jones industrial index was at its record high Friday. But five were near their peaks set earlier this year. Three others set their highs in 1963, seven in 1961 and four in 1960. The other 10 on the list made theirs before 1960.

Stocks on the list setting their record highs in February 1964 are A.T.&T., International Harvester, Sears Roebuck, Jersey Standard Oil, and Texaco. The three at their peaks in 1963 are Chrysler, General Motors, and California Standard Oil. Those dating back before the 1960s are Alcoa, American Can, Anaconda, Bethlehem Steel, Goodyear, International Paper, Swift, Union Carbide, United Aircraft, Steel.
